NINE MONTHS IN JAIL FOR POETESS

Woman Leader of Mahatma's Forces is Punished for Salt Depot Raid

Bombay, India, May 23 (AP)—Mrs. Sorojini Naidu today was sentenced to nine months' simple imprisonment as leader of the Mahatma Gandhi civil disobedience salt raiders at Dharranasa, on Wednesday.

Mahatma Gandhi's son, Manilal, and Gandhi's secretary, arrested with Mrs. Naidu, were sentenced to one year's rigorous imprisonment each. This is the third son of the Mahatma to be sent to prison. Imam Sahib of Bhawagir was sentenced to six months' simple imprisonment.

An enormous crowd, estimated at 200,000, marched through the Indian section of the city after the noon and attempted to enter the fort area. Four hundred men blocked the way. The demonstrators then turned down the road and sang Nationalist songs.

The war council of the all-India Congress finally decided to stage an other raid on the Wadala salt works today. It was carried out by 100 volunteers. The police again went into action and arrested 60 volunteers. The remaining 40 continued to march toward Wadala. Serious repercussions were feared today from a speech of V. J. Patel, resigned president of the Indian legislative assembly and new head of the civil disobedience campaign, before 100,000 Indian Nationalist sympathizers here last night.

Patel pleaded for "revolution and still more revolution." After his speech the streets were filled with crowds, shouting: "Down with the British; away with British goods." Some hundred and fifty Nationalist volunteers, arrested in the recent salt raids and held in the detention camp at Wark, have begun a hunger strike in protest over the food offered them.

Salem Woman Reported Missing

Salem, May 23—Salem police today notified all outside cities and towns to be on the lookout for Mrs. Ernestine Fugere, 35 years old, mother of two children, of 7 West ave., this city, who has been missing from her home since Mother's day, May 11.

Mrs. Fugere, who is well known in Salem, and who has been a resident here all her life, left her home to visit friends on May 11. A checkup by members of her family revealed that she was last seen by friends in the Lynn depot of the Narragansett Railroad.

Fitzgerald Speaks for Dorchester Day

Participation by the state in the coming tercentenary celebration of Dorchester day was urged at a hearing before the House rules committee today by former Mayor John F. Fitzgerald and Representative Joseph Finnegan of Dorchester.

At about the same time Representative Lewis R. Sullivan of Dorchester filed an order with the clerk of the House requesting the governor to order the National Guard to participate in the Dorchester tercentenary parade June 17.

It is a good piece of real estate, her it was said, and it is well known it will keep her, the deed values there today in the real estate columns of the Classified Ads.

RECRITS JOIN BOOK 'WAR'

New York, May 23 (AP)—Three Henry Ford of the book business—volunteers, comparatively, in years and publishing experience—at back with quiet grins today listening to comments and arguments evoked by their launching into mass production of books that can be bought at drugstores for 15 apiece and, like magazines, be read and thrown away.

Four publishers are participating in the price cut trade public yesterday, but one of them, Coward-McCann, went down "only to $1.50 for the price of books of new or less known authors.

The other three, Doubleday, Doran & Co., Farrar & Rinehart, and Simon & Schuster, expressed two supporters today, even at some of the older houses squaring misgivings and predicting a price war.

Arthur Brentano, Jr., president of Brentano's and until yesterday of the American Book-Sellers Association, prophesied that by June 10 not four, but 34 publishers would have made drastic reductions.

Nelson Doubleday stated most definitely the case of the $1 book and what brought it about.

"If we can sell twice as many books by putting them out at $1 each and getting whole window-draws of them into drug stores, that's what we'll do," he said.

Advance Pay on Vacations Sought

Can You Write a Letter on Styles?

Hollywood, May 23—Defenders of the gay nineties and adherents of the emancipated thirties today united in revealing the almost universal interest in the subject of women's wear, and the Marion Davies style contest.

Hundreds of letters were received at the new Panopticon Theater from points in California, Arizona, Nevada, and as far east as El Paso.

Women, proudly proclaiming themselves of more than 80 years old, girls admitting to 15, men and women of various ages and professions hastened to express their opinions upon the subject of women's styles.

Now did age seem to influence the writers' views. Some like skirts long; some like them short. Some of the letters follow:

"I know that women do not dress to please men. I know it is maintained that women dress to please other women. I think that this is not the case either.

Women dress to please the Paris couturiers. The only effective argument against short dresses is that some women are too old, too fat, or too unshapely to wear them.

And the answer to that argument is: Let such women wear long dresses, and let the young women, the slender women, the shapely women wear the short dresses which better befit their loveliness.

SLAYER OF TEN GETS 40 YEARS

New York, May 23 (INS)—Jim Baker, known as "Texas Jim," was today sentenced by Judge Nott in general sessions to 40 years to life imprisonment for the murder of Henry Gawn, night watchman in the Guggenheim laboratories, in December, 1928. The court accepted a second degree murder plea.

Baker had boastfully confessed, according to the police of this city and Detroit, that he had perpetrated at least 10 murders and holdups in various parts of the world.

For a time Baker was under observation at Bellevue Hospital. Alonists are understood to have said that while the youth was sane he was not normal.

ADMIRAL SAYS U. S. SOVEREIGN RIGHT IS LOST

Declares the Treaty Does Not Give Parity Nor Type of Ship Most Needed

Washington, May 23 (AP)—With supporters of the London naval treaty urging quick ratification and its free maneuvering for 4-day, two senate committees continued today to hear objections to the pact by the Navy General Board.

Before the naval committee, Rear Admiral H. H. Hough declared that at London "certain principles which we have consistently maintained for a long period were abandoned."

At the same time members of the Foreign Relations Committee were told by Comdr. H. C. Train that Great Britain got what she wanted at the conference, and that Japan made no sacrifice in accepting the treaty's cruiser allotment.

Chairman Borah of the Foreign Relations Committee was particularly outspoken in his criticism, declaring support of the treaty, manifestly tried to bury his hearings along, but Chairman Hale of the naval committee helped his witnesses in their detailed criticism of the cruiser provisions in particular.

Repeating in Hale, Hough said: "I feel that we have abandoned our sovereign right to build the type of ships best suited to our needs."

"We have tied ourselves in a type of ship not suited to our needs. We have in a measure been dictated to as to what we should build."

"I do not think the treaty gives it to us."

Hough and Train supported the general board's opinion that the United States should have a fleet of 10-12 fast battle cruisers, as against the balance between eight-battleships and six-battleships established under the treaty.

Raided Woman Calls BYRD FLAGSHIP MAKES BALBOA

Bahoa, Canal Zone, May 23 (AP)—The Eleanor Bolling, Rear Admiral Byrd's Antarctic exploration ship, arrived here today.

The Eleanor Bolling, a steamship, was the companion vessel of the City of New York in the expedition to the South Pole.

Rear Admiral Byrd arrived at Balboa on May 14. The Eleanor Bolling, towing the City of New York, followed, having run as high as 160 miles in a day.

A shortage of coal caused the Eleanor Bolling on May 17 to cut loose from the City of New York. The bark is expected in port at an early date.

Crematorium for Gangsters' Bodies Will Mark Grave of Negro Patriot

Fitchburg, May 23 (AP)—The grave in Ashby of a liberated negro slave, Black Prince Edith, who fought with the Colonials in the revolutionary battle of Concord, soon will bear a headstone similar to that which marks the graves of other heroes of that conflict.

Word has been received here from the War Department that the petition of Brig.-Gen. James Reed to Chapter, Sons of the American Revolution, for the headstone has been granted.

Special Cable
Recife (Permanently). May 22.—The Graf Zepppelin has juggled with the seasons. From a Friedrichshafen spring it has brought us in four days to the tropical atmosphere of Recife. Today it will give us a taste of the weather at Rio de Janeiro.

But this is only one of the thrills afforded Dr. Eckener's air argonauts.

Aeolus, god of the winds, in the person of Capt. Von Karman, declared at the air baptism, with full honors, of the mortals, who for the first time in the world's history crossed the equator in an airship.
Eleven passengers, including four women, received the beautiful engraved certificates. The first was given to Mrs. Lillian V. Hach, of Boston, the certificate had been designed by Dr. Eckener's artist brother, Alex. Eckener, of Stuttgart.
Each was inscribed with a new personal name, and the first, Mrs.
Hach, was named under pain of penalties. The passengers declare that they would not take this trip for this unique moment of the first non-stop passenger flight from Europe to South America.

The passengers were summoned into the ship's salon at 10:30 a. m.
(E.S.T.) to the Graf Zepppelin.
The door to the bridge was flung open to admit Capt. Lehmann, wearing a triumphant smile on his face, and beside him, the widowed Countess von Schiller, who appeared with her husband, the Graf, in his entire glory, crowned with roses.
She carried a short aluminum indigo, robed with strings to represent his love.

Dr. Freund, the wireless officer, dressed in his rose silk kimono, his hair plastered with roses, followed as Aeolus' secretary.

PRINCE ASSISTS
Acts as Interpreter in Ceremony Aboard Zepppelin

Prince Alfonso acted as interpreter in all languages for the speeches in which he welcomed Dr.
Eckener, his crew and the ship's passengers.

Aeolus emphasized the historical importance of this, the first crossing of the Equator by an airship filled with passengers and mail.
From an imposing dais, he read the roll call, at each passenger's name came ringing the name of a virtuous wife which gave them the right to cross, they are to be known henceforth.

Princess presented the certificates, individually, to each recipient received his "baptism" of crossed air from Dr. Eckener's inflecting arm.

From now on Dr. Eckener is to be called "Aerostich." "Aerostich," Capt. Lehmann and Fleming were to be "Pal" and "Palaehon," which are the German equivalents of "Mutt" and "Jeff," because they short and one tall.

Capt. Von Schiller is to be "Goethe." Mrs. Durston "Baby."
Mrs. Pierce, "Frit," Frau Hach,
"Tong," myself, "Hayflower," and Karl Von Wiegand is to be "Doctor Oligant"—a gigantic because of the gigantic power the Hach's newspapers and the support of Von Wiegand have given the lightning-rod.

Kaiber, the Berlin newspaperman, is to be called "Compass Air," and Herr Wronsky "Proletariat," because it is alleged that he has been converted from the heavy-thair
air craft to the light-thair.

"DRIEST TRIP"
Passengers Consume 55
Bottles of Light Wine

Dr. Zwicky in "Chesse" because it is from Switzerland. "Copus
Bergs" has been named "Copus
Delvitz," Prince Alfonso, "Infante
Gato," which means "Spice-
Child." Dr. Cardoso is "Little Vincent" because he is a red-headed
Dr. Badt is "Little Breadcrafter."
Col. Hayers and Genevieve Havero are "New" and "Lebra." Herr Brenthaupt is called "Schreibhaupt," because he writes so many "Zeppelin." Dr. Geromino "Mogias" is "Liquor" because he is always drinking water.

The most amazing feature of this trip was the utter relaxation of the passengers. There has been a complete absence of tension. The Chief Steward Kable tells me that there has been the "driest trip" the Zepppelin has ever made. From Friedrichshafen to Recife 15 passengers aboard and from Recife to Recife with 15 passengers aboard.

A total of four days, the lightning-rod consumed 55 bottles of light wine, two of champagne, one of brandy, one of whiskey and one of vodka. In the afternoon the passengers drank 200 quarts of mineral water.

Garrett was informed by the clerk that the opportunity was granted him to retract his plea and be tried as at once as that on Monday, when his motion is heard. There will be no official plea before the court.

SEES PENMAN EXPERT
Except for his planned talk with Sullivan, the district attorney has completed preparation of his case for the jury. Before starting for Plymouth he talked briefly with Wilbur E. Turner, the handwriting expert; N. Gary Hayward, the auditor of the Garrett bank accounts; and Patriman Henry LaCru, who was for seven years a member of the headquarters inner circle.

It was evident from the district attorney's session on June 22, that Sullivan, who charged Garrett, Mrs. Garrett, Mrs. Lillian V. Hach, Sgt. Arthur Timmons and Special Officer Arthur Tiersman with accepting graft, was said to be ready to appear before a jury at once.

The joint rules committee's report approving the filing of the Warner findings was on the House calendar today and fireworks on evidence scale were expected when the report came up for debate.

WANT WILSON HEARD
Ex-Commissioner Herbert A. Wilson's friends in the House were prepared to stage a bitter battle to prevent filing of the report without giving the former police head an opportunity to be heard. The rules committee denied him that opportunity.

Rep. Benton Whidden of Brookline was expected to lead the drive against filing and to insist that Wilson be summoned before the House. Rep. Leo Burningham of Haverhill, who bolted the rules committee, because he is a red-headed Dr. Badt is "Little Breadcrafter."

WILD EXCITEMENT
Roar of the Growls Heard Above Motors

When the Graf was finally moved at the mast, Dr. Hugo Eckener announced from the low boat the official time of the coast-to-coast crossing, Spain to Brazil, in 29 hours 53 minutes.

To this coast-to-coast record, Dr. Eckener added the achievement of landing the Graf in the blackest night on a field unknown to him and with a strange landing crew of Brazilian soldiers, who had never seen an airship before.

HIT BY DELUGE
Zeppelin Flights Through Equatorial Squalls

The test of the ship on this flight came in the early hours of this morning, when the Zeppelin, on its way to the equator, was hit by a deluge, like the rains which come in the zone of Calima.

Dr. Eckener had started the fifth motor at midnight in expectation of these storms and had ordered the bridge to "drive through them."

Keenly alert, he watched the effect of the tons of water that fell on the 763 foot long craft. No ballast whatever was dropped, and only three-quarters of a degree angle of the equator, another historical achievement.

It is the first time an airship has "crossed the line" and blazed a path through the uncharted air lanes over the vast South Atlantic ocean, Europe to South America in two and a half days.

At 7:25 p. m. (E.S.T.) the Graf was moored at the edge of the city. Dr. Eckener crossed the city and circled it, hunting for the field until he found it. The city was widely excited. A continuous roar of shouts came up to us even through the roar of the motors.

At 8:06 p. m. (7:06 p. m. E.S.T.) the landing ropes touched the ground. The soldiers did not know how to pull the ship down properly and it took 20 minutes to get it down.

At 8:16 p. m. (7:16 p. m. E.S.T.) the Graf settled to earth so lightly that we didn't even feel it. Shouts burst out with an excitement of admiration.

"The Germans know their job and their ship," Dr. Eckener announced that, in view of the impossibility of refusing in such darkness, the Graf would stay in the field until it was found. The city was widely excited. A continuous roar of shouts came up to us even through the roar of the motors.

CLERGY RENEWS FIGHT ON SHOW BOAT'S LICENSE

South Boston Pastors Register Their Protest With License Board

South Boston clergymen today indicated they would appeal from the action of the city licensing board in granting a permit for dance and dine privileges to the Show Boat, a vessel now moored at Northern pier in Boston harbor.

The craft is a dismantled five-masted schooner, transformed into a floating dance hall, and has been tied up at its pier for more than a year awaiting permission to operate.

Rev. Louis W. West, pastor of the South Baptist church, and one of the clergymen who signed the protest against granting of a permit at a hearing before the licensing board, said today the fight against the show boat was not in vain.

BLAMES OUTSIDERS
"People who live outside the South Boston district brought pressure to bear on the licensing board," he said, "and these outsiders foisted the nuisance upon us."

"It is an temptation for the youth of the district and for me should immediately take steps to appeal from the award of the permit to the board."

Rev. John Cushman, of St. Monica's Catholic church, expressed disapproval with the action of the board and asserted his opposition to the operation of the Show Boat had not been softened by the granting of a license.

Police Commissioner E. C. Hullman said he knew of the opposition to the Show boat and had authorized Capt. King to appear against the granting of a license.

HULLMAN TO WATCH
Hullman did not believe he could "go over to the home of the licensing board" in blocking the permit, but he would keep a close police supervision on its activities.

Among the clergymen who appeared with Capt. King in protest before the licensing board were: Messrs. G. J. Patterson, St. Vincent's church; Rev. James J. O'Connell, St. Patrick's church; Rev. Frank Rathbone of St. Matthew's Episcopal church; Thomas Mark of Haves United Presbyterian church; and Rev. Frederick Richards of Phillips Congregational church.

NINE MONTHS JAIL FOR POETESS

Woman Leader of Mahatma's Forces Is Punished for Salt Depot Raid

Bombay, India, May 23 (AP)—Mrs. Sorojini Naidu today was sentenced to nine months' simple imprisonment as leader of the Mahatma Gandhi civil disobedience salt raiders at Dharamasa, on Wednesday.

Mahatma Gandhi's son, Manilal, and Gandhi's secretary, arrested with Mrs. Naidu, were sentenced to one year's rigorous imprisonment each. This is the third son of the Mahatma to be sent to prison. Imam Sahib of Bhowagiri was sentenced to six months' simple imprisonment.

An enormous crowd, estimated at 200,000, marched through the Indian section of the city after the afternoon and attempted to enter the fort area. Four hundred men blocked the way. The demonstrators then sang National songs.

The war council of the all-India congress after deliberating whether it was worth while to swell the number of prisoners in the jails, today finally decided to stage another raid on the Wadala salt works today. It was carried out by 100 volunteers. The police again went into action and arrested 60 volunteers. The remaining 40 continued to march toward Wadala.

Serious repercussions were feared today from a speech of V. J. Patel, resigned president of the Indian legislative assembly and new head of the civil disobedience campaign, before 100,000 Indian Nationalist sympathizers here last night.

Patel pleaded for "revolution and still more revolution." After his speech the streets were filled with crowds, shouting: "Down with the British; away with British goods." Two hundred and fifty Nationalist volunteers, arrested in the recent salt raids and held in the detention camp at Worli, have begun a hunger strike in protest over the food offered them.

RECRITS JOIN BOOK 'WAR'

New York, May 23 (AP)—Three Henry Fords of the book business—youths, comparatively, in years and publishing experience—sat back with quiet grins today listening to comments and arguments evoked by their launching into mass production of books that can be bought at drugstores for 25 cents and, like magazines, be read and thrown away.

Four publishers are participating in the price-cutting war today. One of them, Coward-McCann, went down today to $1.50 and $1.75 for works of new or less known authors.

The other three, Doubleday, Doran & Co., Farrar & Rinehart, and Simon & Schuster, acquired two supporters today, even as some of the older houses expressed misgivings and predicted a price war.

Arthur Brentano, Jr., president of Brentano's and until yesterday of the American Book-Sellers' Association, prophesied that by June 30 not four, but 14 publishers would have made drastic reductions.

Nelson Doubleday stated most definitely the case of the $1 book and what brought it about.

"If we can sell twice as many books by putting them out at $1 each and getting whole windows full of them into drug stores, that's what we'll do," he said.

Can You Write a Letter on Styles?

Hollywood, May 23.—Defenders of the gay nineties and adherents of the emancipated thirties today united in revealing the almost universal interest in the subject of women's wear, and the Marlon Davies style contest.

Hundreds of letters were received at the new Pantages Theater from points in California, Arizona, Nevada and as far east as St. Paul.

Women, proudly proclaiming themselves of more than 30 years old, girls, admitting to 16, men and women of various ages and professions hastened to express their opinions upon the subject of women's styles.

Not only age seem to influence the writers' views. Some like skirts long, some like them short. Some of the letters follow.

"I know that women do not dress to please men. I know it is maintained that women dress to please other women. I insist that this is not the case either."

Women dress to please the Paris couturiers.

The only effective argument against short dresses is that some women are too old, too fat, or too unshapely to wear them.

And the answer to that argument is—

Let such women wear long dresses, and let the young women, the slender women, the shapely women wear the short dresses which better better their lines.

"The Florida Girl," Miss Davies' latest picture, opens at the new Pantages Theater, Hollywood, Cal., Wednesday night, June 4.

Declares the Treaty Does Not Give Parity Nor Type of Ship Most Needed

Washington, May 23 (AP)—With supporters of the London naval treaty urging quick ratification and its foes maneuvering for delay, two senate committees continued today to hear objections to the pact by the Navy General Board.

Before the naval committee, Rear Admiral H. H. Hough declared that at London "certain principles which we have consistently maintained for a long period were abandoned."

At the same time members of the Foreign Relations Committee were told by Comdr. H. C. Train that Great Britain got what she wanted at the conference, and that Japan made no sacrifice in accepting the treaty's cruiser allotment.

Chairman Borah of the Foreign Relations Committee, who has indicated support of the treaty, manifestly tried to hurry his hearings along, but Chairman Hale of the naval committee helped his witnesses by their detailed criticisms of the cruiser provisions in particular.

Replying in Hale, Hough said: "I feel that we have abandoned our sovereign right to build the type of ships best suited to our needs."

"We have tied ourselves to a type of ship not suited to our needs. We have in a measure been dictated to as to what we should build."

"The treaty is a disaster. It does not think the treaty gives us parity."

Both Hough and Train supported the general board's opinion that the United States needs a preponderance of 8-inch gun cruisers, as against the balance between eight-inchers and six-inchers established under the treaty.

FEAR LEEVES CRUMBLING

Boston, La., May 23 (AP)—A statement by M. J. McChesney, secretary of the Cade Parish Levee Board, that the main Red River levee near here appeared to be crumbling caused the evacuation of the Cade gardens and Broadmoor sections early today.

Several thousand persons have homes in the area which would be in the path of an overflow.

A force of approximately 100 men was at work in an effort to build a 15-foot secondary levee 100 yds. from the original protective wall. McChesney said he believed the main levee would collapse within a few hours, but hoped the secondary levee would serve at least as a temporary barrier.

seem to have been lost sight of.

"Regardless of whether there has been any violation of the statute by the Finance Commission department," it said, "the Finance Commission has been negligent in its failure to enforce the law and in its failure to enforce the law in the administration of the city's business."

The statement follows in part:

NOT A SINGLE BID

"The public buildings department actually awarded contracts for painting to the extent of approximately $15,000. During 1935, 1936 and 1937, the public buildings department has not publicly advertised for a single bid for this item."

"If a careful survey were made at least annually of the work to be done under this appropriation throughout the city buildings, it is inconceivable that many of the jobs might not be combined under a single contract, which would be advertised in the usual way, with resulting economies."

"To prevent a particularly serious public office from advertising contracts of less than $1000."

"Throughout the controversy there has been a disposition to explain Mr. Engler's negligence as being either common to all city departments or a long-established custom of the public buildings department. If either is true, it is obvious that the Finance Commission should investigate further the practices in this and other departments. The filing of contracts with the city clerk is important in order to provide a check for the general public."

WANTS FULL FORCE

"From the published reports of the Finance Commission and Mr. Engler's opinion, it is by no means obvious that there have been intentional violations of the law."

"We hope, however, that the whole matter will be probed to the bottom; that the investigation will not include Mr. Engler's department alone, and that the Finance Commission, concerning which there are rumors abroad, will be further scrutinized, in order either to determine whether there is any justification for the rumors, or to silence the idle talk for good."

also Mr. Mellon. Replying Mr. Eide wrote:

"I note what you say about Hoover, Mellon, etc. I am convinced you are wrong in your attitude."

"There was a time when I had reached the same feeling, but on thorough investigation I have reached the conclusion that Mellon has gone just as far on prohibition enforcement as his superior wanted him to go, and I do not believe he is now standing in the way of effective prohibition enforcement."

"I think a thorough investigation of the situation will convince you, or any one else, as to that matter. I do believe, however, that the fact that some of the Senators and other public officials are expressing themselves on this proposition will lead to a more careful analysis of the situation and bring the whole program to a head and help to get more definite results."

"The progress is being made very rapidly yet at the same time the situation is not what it used to be and what it will be."

O. K. DRY APPOINTMENT

McBride reiterated his opinion expressed yesterday that President Hoover was "making good" on prohibition enforcement. He said he thought this administration was doing better than the previous one. Senator Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin, brought up a telegram sent to A. Graham of Louisville, to Mr. McBride, which said:

"Suggest you get in touch with Hoover, Mitchell and DeWitt in behalf of Sam Collier's appointment. Unfavorable rumors being circulated here indicate prompt action necessary."

McBride testified he did not see the three officials. He said he had not seen Mr. Hoover since his inauguration and had conferred with Atty.-Gen. Mitchell only three times. McBride testified the prohibition commissioners appointed had been satisfactory to the league.

Senator Cawley wired Bishop James Cannon, Jr., today to ascertain if he could appear before the lobby committee. Wednesday for questioning concerning his prohibition activities.

The motion picture "Flight" will be shown in the Brookline high school auditorium by the Brookline Aero Science Club tonight at 8 o'clock. The show is given in conjunction with a model exhibit in the Brookline Public Library to celebrate the first anniversary of Lindbergh's flight across the Atlantic.

Boston Post 22, Jewish War Veterans of the United States, will unveil a memorial tablet upon the grave of Benjamin Weir, one of the first men to enlist during the World War. The ceremony will take place at the Hebrew Free Pressive Lodge Cemetery, Grove St., East Dedham, on June 2 at 2 p. m. Among speakers will be Edward A. Files, Louis G. Kirstein, of the Files's Co-operative Association; Maj. Ernest D. Hatch, of the U. S. Veterans Bureau; Rabbi Philip A. Langh, of Chelsea, and representatives from the various service men's organizations. The committee on arrangements consists of Abraham N. Simon, chairman, Albert V. Metzler, commander of Boston Post 22, and Maxwell Cohen, past commander of the post.

Thousands of social workers from all parts of the country are turning their faces toward Boston where the annual meeting of the National Conference of Social Work is to be held June 8 to 11. Awards of 2000 reservations have been made. Roy Cushman, secretary of the Boston Council of Social Agencies, is on the arrangements committee. Headquarters have been opened by the national secretary, Howard Knight of Columbus, O., in Hotel Statler.

Past Department Commander William McGinnis will be the principal speaker at the Memorial Bazaar service at the quarters of the Irving W. Adams post of the American Legion at Roslindale Sunday afternoon.

Elks to Entertain Cripples, Orphans

One thousand young cripples and orphans will be the guests tomorrow of the social and community welfare committee of the Boston Lodge of Elks, headed by Charles V. de la Elks Home.

There will be a noon-day luncheon, a show and a present for each child.

DEMOCRATS TO PLAY WHIST

Nellie Taylor Ross, first woman governor of Wyoming and head of the women's division of the Democratic party, is to be guest of honor at the Women's Democratic bridge whist at the Statler tomorrow afternoon.

It is expected that Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt, wife of the governor of New York, will also be present. Roosevelt has donated a doll which will be awarded at the meeting.

Dr. Helen L. Doherty is chairman of the committee on arrangements. Mrs. Josiah Woodrow Barry and Mrs. Colin W. McDonald are on the reception committee.

Don't say "it can't be done" until you've tried a West Air.

Chicago's Co-Eds Now Must 'Jury Their Dates

Chicago, May 23 (U.S.)—The "honorary system" at the University of Chicago dormitories for girls has been abolished. Hereafter, when the coeds bid dates they were allowed to register their names in a book for that purpose along with their destination and expected hour of return. They were left on their honor to record later the actual time that they came in from their dates.

Last night an attendant was stationed at the book, with hands from 10 p. m. to 6 a. m. to keep track of the time the girls get in.

Killed in Crash

Riverside, Cal., May 23 (U.S.)—Capt. Harland H. De Mays, Army Corps, flew and West Point graduate, was dashed to death near here.

SEEK PARKING BAN ON HILL

Building Commissioner Edward A. Rosner today had before him a formal complaint filed in behalf of Beacon Hill residents against use of vacant land on Pinckney st. between St. and Embankment rd. as a commercial parking place for automobiles.

The complaint is specifically in the name of James Madsen, owner of property at 2 to 8 Brimmer st. It alleges various violations of the zoning laws, and especially that a business enterprise has illegally been established in a residential district.

Provisional plans for court action by residents of the district may lead, it was stated today, to a friendly agreement to seek judicial determination of the issue. Asst.

Corporation Counsel Leo Schwartz, upon whom Commissioner Rosner must rely for advice, asserts that the city would welcome a definite decision.

Schwartz said he is now awaiting a decision by the full bench of the Supreme Court in a case where Shlonsky have objected to use by Mrs. Rosner Company of land adjacent to their building in the Fenway as a parking place. Judge Crosby of the Supreme Court ruled (thawing legal) but emphasized that no one was charged for parking.

USE FISH FILETIN SALAD

You'll never have the distressed feeling Mother Hubbard must have experienced when she looked into her empty cupboard if you learn on the spot a generous supply of our favorite fish filets. These filets are made from the very finest and freshest of mackerel taken at an immediate 24-hour plant, immediately cleaned, very carefully and delicately cooked, and then hand-packed, care being taken not to break the fish. One of the great attractions of these delicious filets is that they are not in heavy, broken pieces, but are the very choicest pieces of choice mackerel.

These filets are delicious served as cream sauce, a gratin, a la Mayonnaise, in omelette, or in fact, in any dish in which fresh fish of fine flavor is required. Having been cooked and canned without loss of the time and flavor of the water, these quality filets have the finest-to-goodness fresh fish flavor. To try them once is to be straight back and stock up generously.

One of our favorite methods of using these convenient filets is to chill them and add to them chopped celery and, if convenient, a few capers. Mayonnaise, French dressing is blended thoroughly with the fish, which is then arranged in a nest of crisp lettuce and garnished with sliced tomatoes. Along the salad arrange in wheel-shaped effect narrow strips of green pepper.

THE DAILY HUBBARD

HARVARD EDITORS TALK SHOP

We looked in today at the brick front of "Harvard Crimson," the college daily. We wanted to know something about how the youthful editors turned out their four-page sheet, and incidentally, also how they took their responsibilities. Editor E. L. Bell, 21, was in charge. The group hummed in the rear, copy boys chased about with proofs and script. There was something about the place resembling the cluttered class room across the street; here everything was businesslike. The various departments were labeled "editorial," "advertising," "circulation," etc. One thing was noted: differentiating college newspaper men from the men in the paid press was not hard on the job. Mr. Bell asked us to join the cubicle of an office near the door. This also was businesslike. A comradely greeting of "Hi, how are you?" greeted us. A comradely handshake followed. A comradely handshake followed. A comradely handshake followed.

K. Camille Den Dooven represented America with this birthday cake in the Culinary Show of April 30 to May 6, at Utrecht, Holland.

WILL GIVE TIPS ON CANDY

A record attendance can be confidently expected in the Martha Lee cooking school Tuesday evening, and Wednesday afternoon, when K. Camille Den Dooven, the famous chef of royalty and of the finest hotels in this country and the Continental will take charge of the classes. Den Dooven will give a special demonstration lecture on the making of candy.

The latest honor accorded Den Dooven was a diploma awarded him in the culinary show of April 30 to May 6 at Utrecht, Holland. Den Dooven represented America in this exhibition and his birthday cake was the center of the display. The flowers of the candy work in which Den Dooven excels, were as tremendously beautiful, well formed, and artistic as the bride and the bridegroom, being and lasting in their natural beauty, will make up a masterpiece of perfect workmanship.

Den Dooven's candy lesson will be a part of the regular Tuesday evening and Wednesday afternoon cooking school.

PLUMPTON MEN A TRIFLE HIGH HAT

Later we visited the offices of the Lampton. Here shines the literary lights of the university. The Harvard Lampton, founded in 1878, is a conscious of its tradition, the magazine being a sort of social alibi of the club, something of an antique. We don't know how much the Lamptoners but they are worth a whole lot. Paul Brooks, 31, is president of the magazine and editor of the Lampton. The editors were busy on the Lampton number about to go to press. We saw the front cover ready for makeup—a picture of a Puritan sitting on a pot of Boston baked beans. Mr. Brooks said they were a little bored by the constant kidding of the press... after all they were engaged in serious literary pursuits. The Lampton was not a dilettante, a playboy of the college. There was a tradition behind it. It is up to each succeeding editor to hold up this tradition. The Lampton being a humorous publication we asked the editor what he thought of Boston as field of humor. Mr. Brooks replied "Boston is a flat town—it's all worked out."

A SIMPLE STEP TOWARDS HEALTH

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a Daily Essential and Millions Know Its Effectiveness in Relief of Constipation

Perhaps the one simple thing you are not doing to guarantee permanent health is having sufficient roughage in your food. Absence of this roughage is the direct cause of constipation which results in so many other ills—headaches, listlessness, general depression, indigestion and, sometimes, serious disease.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is roughage. It is positively guaranteed to relieve both temporary and recurring constipation or the purchase price will be refunded. Take two spoonfuls daily (in serious cases, with each meal) is the proper amount.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN also helps you to health in other ways. It is rich in iron, practically all of which goes into the blood, bringing red, healthy color to the complexion. It helps prevent anemia. Be sure to include it in reducing diets.

Many eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN with cream or milk added. It is a delicious addition to cereals, fruits and soups. In cooked foods, it is just as effective in the relief of constipation. Recommended by doctors. Ask your grocer for Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in the red and green package. Served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

PLAN TRIP LINE TO SUMMER RESORTS

By GEORGE HAMBLEN

The summer colonies of Cape Cod, Martha's Vineyard and Nantucket will again be linked by air from Boston, it was announced today by Harry D. Copland, manager of the Eastern Air Transport Service. Daily service to the islands is scheduled to start June 30.

Curtis-Wright will also inaugurate daily service from Boston to Portland, Ray Harbor and Rockland on the same date. These lines were decided upon by the company after a conference between Copland and Andrew Nash, head of the traffic department of the company.

Thos. T. Wickford, chief pilot, and William C. Harris, traffic manager in Boston, made a survey trip over the Nantucket line in a Robin cabin monoplane, and reported that the field at Nantucket and the island were in excellent shape. The trip on Cape Cod has not been decided as yet, the choice being made between Hyannis and Palm Beach.

This will be the fourth summer of air service to the cape, the Eastern Air Transport Corp. having started the line in 1926. Curtis-Wright absorbed the former company, and continued the line last summer.

Portland will be flown to every morning, leaving Boston at 11 o'clock, and connecting at Portland with the amphibious planes flying to Ray Harbor and Rockland. The service, a Curtiss Thrush, six place cabin monoplane powered with a 100 horsepower Wright Whirlwind, will return in the afternoon in time to make connections with the New York Colonial, Springfield, Albany, New England and Western and Cape Cod planes, all of which leave Boston between 4:30 and 5 p.m.

"Adam and Eve on a raft—work 'em!"

"May I have two scrambled eggs on toast?"

"Suckers and draw one."

"Offer and divulge, please."

Like a house divided, the Boston Airport luncheon swung into full operation today, with above orders being on all sides.

The luncheon consists of a dining room in front, with a lunch counter in the rear, and occupies the rear corner of the first floor of the administration building.

Police, managers, many flyers, girls and students flock into the front of the canteen house, dressed in street clothes, with the "grace-mongers" and mechanics in their dirty overalls use the counter, separated from the main dining saloon by the kitchen.

The concession, leased by the city to a Malden concern, flies every need of the lower market, and was hailed by airport officials with cheers, as the solution of the problem of "where to eat and how."

OLGA'S FUND RETURNED

By The Associated Press

New York, May 23 (UPI)—Nathan Leo Amster, railroad financier, has returned to Olga Edwards and her six-year-old son the $100,000 trust fund he set up for them. Amster is now on the high seas, bound for a European tour. Miss Edwards will go to Europe shortly. Announcement of the pact came before the Supreme Court Justice Aaron J. Levy.

After Amster had Olga arrested for attempted extortion, he dropped the monthly payments of $500 to her from the fund. When the young woman was convicted recently, Max D. Rogers, counsel for the financier, announced that the conviction ended her hope of ever receiving the trust fund.

But today when Miss Edwards asked the court to adjudicate her rights and those of the child in the fund trust said:

"Amster is no longer interested in the income or principal of the trust fund. He desires this court to dispose of it as seems best to the court."

"43 PROFESSORS Say—"

In answer to the question, "Do you consider the chain store a benefit to the American public?" forty-three out of forty-five professors of well-known universities said that they firmly believed that the chain store is a decided benefit. A characteristic reply was received from S. H. DeVault, Professor of Economics, University of Maryland, who says, "I think the chain store is a benefit to the American public. It has helped to standardize goods; has meant lower prices to consumers and has tended to improve the business methods of merchants."

Professor DeVault is an entirely disinterested person and his statement may be relied upon to bear impartial truth based on scientific study.

The Ecco Stores system is a progressive chain and, as such, is a decided benefit to you.

Graduation at Miss Winsor's School Set for Next Thursday

Next Thursday will be graduation day at Miss Winsor's school, when our next year's harvest of debutantes will cross its portals to see what their education will do for them on the ballroom floor of Boston's elite. Miss Catherine Thompson, daughter of the Marston dock, has won the National prize for honors in class, which means a year of study in Paris. It is a great honor for Miss Thompson, as it entitles her to it and working hard for the entire year.

SOCIETY HAS GONE TO THE dogs, we mean the Watson sleigh dogs which Norman Watson brought home with him from the Byrd expedition, 35 being chained up on his estate in Hamilton. Friends far and near are going to the shore to see the splendid animals, but we also hear that the local police have been appealed to because the peace and quiet of a May night is often disturbed by the barking of these same dog-wolves. "Kearney's dog," the chief of said police, finds life quite exciting now that the summer people have arrived and the winters in Hamilton would hardly keep him busy enough to bother him with his badge.

Calendar for Club Season Lengthy

Autumn Meeting of Federation Will Take Place October 28 in Worcester

By NANCY BREWSTER
Next season's club calendar is quite complete even at this early date, and district and legislative conferences are to be planned for during the summer months, according to announcement from State Federation headquarters today.

Federation meetings have been spoken for, the autumn meeting to take place at Worcester with the Worcester Woman's Club as hostess on October 28. Incidentally this group will celebrate its 50th anniversary at the same time. As head of the West Worcester Woman's Club, Mrs. William O. R. Little will welcome club delegates and visiting clubwomen to the mid-winter meeting of the State Federation at the Hotel Statler, January 21, opening with an evening session, continuing the regular sessions the following days.

The innovation planned for this meeting with preliminary banquet and guest speakers the evening before, will doubtless appeal to many who appreciate the usually crowded sessions of the meeting.

Dates for District and Legislative Conferences Fixed

District conferences announced to date include a combined meeting of the 14th and 15th districts in western Massachusetts on November 21, with the Hampden County Woman's Club as hostess. Others planned are: First district, Outlook Club of Falmouth, October 31; 3d district, Quincy Women's Club, October 29; 3d district, Fall River Women's Club, November 1; 4th district, Dorchester Woman's Club, November 15; 5th district, New Bedford Woman's Club, November 15; 6th district, Littleton Woman's Club, October 22; 10th district, Harrie Woman's Club, October 9.

But a few legislative conferences are scheduled so far and these are: seventh and eighth districts, Woman's Club of East Boston High School Center, December 30; 11th district, Worcester Woman's Club, January 28, and 12th district, Newton Community Club, December 12.

To these conferences Mrs. Fred Pigeon and her legislative department will bring the latest word on the legislative matters pending on the hill that clubwomen may be able to make up their minds on the "right" of the question before they must place their X on the dotted line.

New President Will Visit Greenfield Club in October

Probably one of the first official visits planned by the new president of the State Federation, Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, will be to the Greenfield Club in October. Mrs. Schrader is a business woman as well as a leader of society, being a director of the division of immigration and Americanization as well as attending to her duties as president of Boston's most exclusive club, the Chilton.

Light Weight Woolens Gain in Popularity

BLACK WOOLEN MATERIAL make up this suggestion from Lenet. The halter is made from one piece with the front of the skirt. (Sketched in Paris.)

From Paris Bureau, Boston Evening American

Paris, May 23.

WOOL WINDS its way through the pattern of the mode with an utter indifference as to the season of the year. For this year both spring and early summer will find ever so many women wearing dresses of light weight woolen fabrics and no doubt reveling in their easy comfort that such frocks afford. Such frocks are rendered piquant by touches of pique, and all sorts of other little details are used to add to their charm and attraction.

The walking frock of simple cut with skirt of sensible length and width is a boon that has been withheld from us all too long judging by the warmth of the reception accorded it by some of the smartest women here.

Such frocks go to lunch at the nicest places with no chance that is the outcome of assurance and perfect faith in their charm and perfection of cut and detail. The woolen fabrics are very supple, can be gracefully manipulated and hang beautifully, and so it is little wonder that they should be so much in demand.

Both of the sketches shown today depict frocks of light weight woolens. The first model is from Patou, one of his very successful little frocks. Pleasing features of this beige frock are the intricately cut and cleverly pleated skirt and the side row of buttons. The collar and the pecky little bow at the left side are of white pique. The belt is clasped with an enamel ring.

The second little frock, which is a Lenet model, is of black woolen material. It is very smartly tailored with the perfection that always characterizes models from this house. The amazingly cut bodice is in one piece with the front of the skirt.

The latter is pleated at the front with two deep side pleats facing one another. The pullover and the clever little standing collar very like the pique declaring themselves for crepe de chine. This model is ideal for the youthful figure built on avette lines and should be avoided by any other type.

Bay State Will Be Well Represented at New London Session

Massachusetts will be well represented when the New England conference of State Federations of Women's Clubs takes place at the Hotel Statler, New London, Conn., on June 25. A. B. Schmitt, president of the Massachusetts Federation, has been engaged, the distribution of which Mrs. Charles G. Wetherby of Newton Highlands, will have under his official delegation of the Bay State clubs to this conference will be Mrs. Schrader, Mrs. Poulie, Mrs. Frederic, Glaser Smith, Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, Jr., Mrs. Thomas Walker, Mrs. John H. Kimball, Mrs. Heman A. Harding, Mrs. Charles L. Fuller and Mrs. Frederick S. Davis.
